Morning Workshop

Gaseous Fire Suppression Systems

8.30am—11.30am UMM—Forum 8

If you design, Install or Maintain Gaseous Fire Suppression systems, its important you don't miss this opportunity to be updated on the many interesting aspects of Australian Standards 4214 Design and Installation of Gaseous fire suppression systems. Brett Staines from Chubb Fire and Chair of the Australian Standards FP committee for Gaseous systems, will chair this very interesting instalment of our Myths and Mysteries series. Bring your questions and ideas, for a very rewarding and informative morning.

Afternoon Workshop

AS1851 Amendment 2

12.30pm—3.30pm UMM—Forum 9

The correct maintenance of Fire Protection equipment and systems is essential to the ongoing protection of life and property. AS1851:2005 has been a major change for our Industry, this recent amendment address's some industry feedback. Roger Thomas is a FPA Australia Board member and NTAC Chair and will guide us through the recent changes to AS1851 and the reasoning behind these changes, and provide an insight as to where this standard may be heading. This workshop is a must for those who want to keep abreast of these changes.
